

Your Disneyland Wedding

The day you say "I Do" is the happiest day of your life. So why not say "you will" be married at the "Happiest Place on Earth"?

Your Disneyland wedding will be the fairytale celebration you've always dreamed of. If you are a bride-to-be, you may have fantasized about an enchanting wedding with a beautiful white gown, a stunning castle and even Cinderella's carriage. Only Disneyland makes this dream come true. Plan your Disneyland wedding and have your own "happily ever after" celebration, complete with a magical ceremony and a creative reception you simply can't find anywhere else.

When you plan your Disneyland wedding, you won't have to stress over the details. Just like Cinderella, you can have your very own Fairy Godmother to look after everything#although in this case, it will actually be a Fairy Godplanner.

Disneyland weddings are not last minute events. The planning stage begins one year before your wedding date. At this time you will meet with the Disney wedding planner, take a site tour and choose from a selection of possible locations for the wedding. Eleven months before the big day, a letter of agreement is signed and returned with a deposit. At ten months, announcements are mailed out to invited guests.

The plans really start to take shape eight months before your Disneyland wedding day. Planning sessions are held by phone or in person with the wedding planner, and reception and ceremony orders are prepared. Everything starts to fall into place, and the excitement continues until one month before the big day. Final payments are due thirty days before the wedding date, and the final guest count is due four days before the wedding is to take place.

Your input is anticipated and required in the planning process, but rest assured all of the details will be attended to without putting stress on the bride and groom-to-be. Flowers, catering and invitations are all included in your Disneyland wedding package. The ceremony will be one that fairy tales are made of, and then you and your new spouse will enjoy the reception of your dreams.

A white-gloved staff handles every detail of your Disneyland wedding reception. The room will be brilliantly decorated with a head table, elegant resort table settings, floor length linens and place cards. Your wedding cake will rise above your wildest dreams, selected by you from a variety of choices.

To complete your Disneyland wedding, honeymoon packages are available at all of the Disneyland Resorts.

From the moment you slip on your engagement ring and whisper "I will", to the second you take your vows and say "I Do", your Disneyland wedding experience will be a dream come true, and you and your spouse will be on your way to "happily ever after".
